CALL FOR ADVERTISERS

The Alliance for New Jersey Environmental Education (ANJEE) invites you to advertise in the Program Book for its 22nd Annual Environmental Education Conference. This book will be given to and used by every conference participant, exhibitor, and presenter—over 350 people who are interested in education and the environment! ANJEE puts your ad directly into this massive targeted audience’s hands. Space is limited so get applications in as soon as possible.

The Alliance for New Jersey Environmental Education is comprised of environmental education specialists, naturalists, classroom teachers, youth leaders, interpreters, administrators, business representatives, and government agency employees who are involved with, or supportive of environmental education in New Jersey. The annual ANJEE conference is the best and only gathering of such an audience in New Jersey. This forum provides organizations and companies with the opportunity to showcase or sell publications, programs, and products that support the environment and/or environmental education.
